BERLIN REPORTS CAPTURE OF CRAIOVA-- IMPORTANT TOWN IN GRAIN DISTRICT

Euton Forces Have Moved Rapidly in Their Latest Stroke

BERLIN, Nov. 21, via wireless to Sayville.—The capture of Craiova, in Western Wallachia, by German troops, was announced by the war office in an official statement this evening.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The German official report concerning Craiova as received here says the town was occupied by German troops at noon today.

The Austro-German forces pushing eastward through Southern Rumania have captured the town of Craiova, threaten the Roumanians, who are retreating down the Jial Valley, and at other points from the Transylvanian Alps region, who apparently are in danger of being cut off.

Bulgarian troops in the Jial Valley have reached Ploesti, but have been repulsed by the Roumanians. The German troops have been ordered to move on to Bucharest, and to take the high roads in an endeavor to reach the city of Bucharest.

SWIFTEST OF VON FALKENHAYN'S STROKE IS CAUSE OF SOME SURPRISE TO THE ALLIES

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The occupation of the Roumanian town of Craiova, in the center of a great grain district on the edge of the Wallachian plain, and an important railway junction, is being reported by the central news agency from the German official bulletin. The fact that the German troops have moved so rapidly in their latest stroke is causing some surprise to the allies.

According to information in Roumanian quarters, in London, the German troops have already made progress in the direction of Craiova. The German troops have moved on to Bucharest, and to take the high roads in an endeavor to reach the city of Bucharest.

PLANS MADE FOR "NATIONAL SERVICE WEEK" AT THE FIRST OF JANUARY NEXT

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—Preparation is being made by R. B. Bennett, M.P., and the national service directorate for the proposed "national service week" at the first of January. Within the next fortnight several hundred thousand circulars will be sent out, and this will be followed by an extensive advertising campaign, while fully a million cards will be issued. They are to be filled in and returned.

The idea in view is to take an inventory of the manpower of Canada and to ascertain definitely what each able-bodied man is doing, whether serving the empire at home or abroad, engaged in an industry vital to the country, or disqualified physically for service, and whether the work of each is of such a character as could be done by women or whether a real barrier to enlistment exists.

It is being emphasized again, however, that the popular conception of the national service is wrong. It is not a recruiting organization. That work still rests with the military. It is designed to ascertain the manpower of the country.

SLAVE RAIDS BY GERMANS UPON BELGIUM IS GREATEST OUTRAGE

Through Belgian Towns and Villages Women, Children and Men Are Being Kidnaped Right and Left by Soldiers Not Only With Justification, But Without Slightest Extenuating Circumstance, Says Belgian Writer.

(By Morning Bulletin Special Wire)
LONDON, Nov. 21.—(By Morning Bulletin Special Wire) The Belgian writer, in a contribution to the London papers, writes:

"As I write these lines the slave raids are going on. The tramp of soldiers is heard through Belgian towns and villages, and women, children and men are kidnapping right and left. It is terrible.

"Trains roll through Germany, loaded with women, children and men, who have been kidnapped from Belgium. These things have been going on since October 10. Ten days ago, in Belgium, the German soldiers were kidnapping women, children and men, who have been kidnapped from Belgium.

CONDITION REPORTED NOT TO BE SERIOUS

For Over Two Years Has Borne War Responsibility

(By Morning Bulletin Special Wire)
LONDON, Nov. 22.—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, aged 86, passed away at nine o'clock at Schonbrunn Castle, Vienna, according to a Reuters despatch from Vienna by way of Amsterdam.

The first intimation received here that Emperor Francis Joseph's health was again the subject of solicitation was contained in a despatch dated Nov. 12th, emanating from a Vienna news agency, which stated that the emperor had been suffering for some days from a slight catarrhal affection.

Subsequent reports from various sources, however, were conflicting, representing that his condition was becoming worse, but none of them indicated that his illness threatened to reach a critical state, and from Vienna came assurances that he was still able to give audience to one or more ministers.

What gave some credence to the suspicion that his condition was much worse, the official bulletin indicated was the report, which still lacks corroboration, that the emperor had decided to associate the heir to the throne, Crown Prince Rudolf, with the government of the country, and to appoint him as regent on December 2nd on the 6th anniversary of the death of the late Emperor Francis Joseph. So far as is known here, the emperor had been in command of the army.

A despatch from Geneva tonight quoted the official bulletin as stating that the emperor was administered by Emperor Franz Josef of Austria.

Archduke Charles Francis, grand nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph, became heir to the throne of Austria by the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, the emperor's son-in-law, on June 28, 1914, who was the younger brother of Emperor Franz Josef of Austria.

Archduke Charles Francis was born on June 28, 1888, at the Hofburg Palace, Vienna, the youngest son of Emperor Francis Joseph, and the youngest son of Emperor Francis Joseph, and the youngest son of Emperor Francis Joseph.

BASEBALL FOOTBALL

OLD-TIME LIGHTWEIGHTS HAD MORE CLASS THAN BOYS TODAY

Little Fellows of Present Day Could Not Compare, Says Ring Expert, With Gans, McKeever and McGovern—The Leaders Were Always Ready to Fight in Old Days.

The victories of Jimmy Leonard over Gus Welch, Jimmy Murphy, Charley Thomas, Sam Williams, Ed McKeever and Johnny Tillman in this city have not been without critics in a dilettante, says a writer in the Philadelphia Record. The writer does not propose to belittle nor to detract from Leonard's ability nor his, because it is one of the best of the present day class of heavyweights. But neither Leonard, Welch nor White, the trio of 129-pounders here in the Bluegrass, compare with Jack McKeever, the late Joe Gans or even Terry McGovern. They were not nearly so much as the latter, who was highly amused at the recent Philadelphia bout in Brooklyn when a leather-lunged amateur introduced himself as Leonard as the best lightweight ever turned out in New York. It was evident that such a person never seen McKeever or McGovern but through the '1916 rounds' like a Kansas cyclone.

Of course we are not living in the golden days now, but it is not to the lightweight champion of America, who retired undefeated to the champions of today to be rated as the best. Both Welch and White, the title holder and gold, Fred, Lord H. and both boys were in the ring, all-round ability. No lightweight in the history of the game has ever been as good as Welch. He was a fighter, and at the old "Ostrich" Conque, he was the best of the class. He was a fighter, and at the old "Ostrich" Conque, he was the best of the class. He was a fighter, and at the old "Ostrich" Conque, he was the best of the class.

Twenty nights in succession and how many he stood inside the limit. No boxer of Philadelphia today can pick the champions and near-champions as lower in class, especially in the old-time days. They would not be easy picking for McKeever, the late Joe Gans or even Terry McGovern, who started as a heavyweight and was later moved down to his class to secure top honors.

The necessary side of boxing was not so well developed in the early days as it is today. The champions and near-champions were lower in class, especially in the old-time days. They would not be easy picking for McKeever, the late Joe Gans or even Terry McGovern, who started as a heavyweight and was later moved down to his class to secure top honors.

ONLY FOUR MODERN HEAVIES HAVE HELD WORLD'S TITLE

"Is Jess Willard champion of the world or only of America?" "Was John L. Sullivan a world heavyweight champion?" "Did Corbett and Fitz hold the world title?"

Questions like these are fired at every sporting editor almost every day of his life. Even the dyed-in-the wool fight fan seems to be uncertain on these points. Boxing "authorities" disagree on the answers, but the consensus of opinion gives the world title to Willard, Johnson, Burns and Jack Corbett and Sullivan. Here, then, is a history of the world title, as distinguished from the American and British heavyweights.

First International Bout. Away back in 1751 Jack Black, the English champion, whipped a Frenchman named "Monsieur Petit" in which the championship was inherited by the English. The Englishman, Black, may be said to have won the world title, but there were no American fighters in those days.

The next bout with an international flavor was between Tom Cribb and William Pegg, an American, in 1810. The black man was entitled to the honors, but lost on technicality. In a second bout Cribb was defeated by Pegg. Cribb was said to belong in the list of world champions, but he was never defeated that title, and his successors were only champions of America.

In 1850 John C. Heenan, an Irish-American, who was recognized as champion of America, crossed the water to fight Tom Sayers, the English champion. The result was called a draw, so the title was not decided. The first bona fide modern world championship was fought in 1857 between John C. Heenan and James Smith, an American, in which Heenan was the victor.

Sullivan T. S. Champion. When James retired Allen again claimed the American championship, and lost it in 1876 to Joe Gans, who was defeated in 1880 by Paul Ryan, a Welshman. John L. Sullivan took the title in 1889, and was defeated in 1891 by James J. Corbett. Corbett was the first American to hold the world title.

Corbett and Fitz. John L. fought a draw with James J. Corbett, but even after he was whipped Mitchell he would not have been champion of England. In 1890 Corbett was the American title, but he was not the world champion. The title was held by James J. Corbett until 1891, when he was defeated by James J. Corbett.

Willard's Claim. The only American title which Corbett took from Sullivan, and which he held until 1891, was the American title. The title was held by James J. Corbett until 1891, when he was defeated by James J. Corbett.

YOU can save Belgian lives!

Though you cannot fight and kill Germans, you can give and save some of their helpless Belgian victims, three million of whom must be fed or starve.

So little is needed to feed a Belgian family, and so economically can the need be met that the Belgian Relief Commission, that there are very few of you who could not provide for at least one family through this winter, or till the end of the war.

$2.50 a month—less than 10c. a day—will do it! How easily you could save that much from your little indulgences—and how much it would mean to some Belgian mother and her hungry little ones!

Wouldn't a little self-denial now be richly repaid by knowing, when the war is over, that you had done your part, and had saved precious lives for our unfortunate Allies?

Enroll your name today among those who are doing their bit in this way! Send your subscription weekly, monthly or in one lump sum to Local, or Provincial, Committee, or
